Heimat Didone – Basic Characters

About: Heimat Didone is the high contrast serif typeface family within the Heimat Collection, also containing Heimat Display, Heimat Sans, Heimat Mono and Heimat Stencil.

Heimat Didone is a neo-classical typeface family designed for contemporary typography, especially for use in headlines and on posters, but also for reading purposes. It combines an idiosyncratic appearance with the feeling of a grid-based letter construction of the late 20s. Since the design might be too extreme for some applications, Heimat Didone's character set provides two alphabets, the regular one plus an alternate design that comes across as less suspenseful.

Opentype options: Heimat Didone [872 glyphs] comes in 72 styles and contains extra sets of alternate glyphs, many ligatures, lining figures [proportionally spaced and monospaced], hanging figures [proportionally spaced and monospaced], positive and negative circled figures for upper and lower case, superior and inferior, fractions, extensive language support and many more OpenType features.

Language support: Afrikaans, Albanian, Basque, Bosnian, Breton, Catalan, Chichewa, Croatian, Czech, Danish, Dutch, English, Esperanto, Estonian, Faroese, Finnish, French, Frisian, Gaelic (Scots), Galician, German, Greenlandic, Hungarian, Icelandic, Indonesian, Irish, Italian, Kashubian, Kurdish, Latvian, Lithuanian, Luxembourgian, Maltese, Maori, Norwegian, Occitan, Polish, Portuguese, (Rhaeto-) Romance, Romanian, Sami, Serbian (Latin), Slovak, Slovenian, Sorbian, Spanish, Swahili, Swedish, Tswana, Turkmen, Turkish, Walloon, Wolof, Yapese.

The 1980s also produced renewed charges that the Agency was still withholding documents relating to the 1947 Roswell incident, in which a flying saucer supposedly crashed in New Mexico, and the documents revealed the presence of a top secret research. Ufologists had long argued that, following a flying saucer crash in New Mexico in 1947, the government not only recovered debris from the crashed saucer but also five alien bodies.

Around 1984, a series of documents surfaced which some Ufologists said that President Truman created a top secret committee in 1947, to secure the recovery of Ufo wreckage from Roswell and any other Ufo crash sight for scientific study. Most if not all of these documents have proved to be fabrications. Yet the controversy persists. Like the JFK assassination conspiracy theories, the Ufo issue probably will not go away soon. The belief that we are not alone in the universe is too emotionally appealing to make the question amenable to traditional scientific studies of rational explanation or evidence.
